WILLIAM BISSELL, Editor.

Glick is Governor and St. John proclaims not. Why?

The Winfield "Courier" believes that the next legislature would be justified in a resubmission of the prohibitory amendment, but that the reaction of two years of free whisky would result in the amendment carrying by a majority larger than before.

Just as soon as there is anything like a chance for Democratic supremacy "Brick" Pomery slips from independence, assumed for temporary purposes, to the old satanic host. He is now once more shouting "Dimmycrat"—X

The Leavenworth "Times" of the 15th, published the letter of Charles Robinson to Glick's ratification at that city which was received too late to be read. It only proves how much of a "fraud" and "tool" the old man is willing to make of himself. He talks about the election proving that the people were forgetting the past and grappling with living issues, while in fact he, with the bourbon crew, have been hanging to the old bourbon ideas of fifty years ago, that nothing should be free but whisky, for the success of which these boozing friends, Glick and Robinson, seem to be in full sympathy and accord. We congratulate the temperance Democrats and the temperance whar not for the able manner in which they have let these fellows use them to accomplish their ends. The effect of the election in this state has turned back the wheels of progress at least thirty-years, but we are not willing to acknowledge that these two old fogies are to have all the credit for this dead lock of the wheels of progress. There is no doubt that many of the fool friends of temperance are entitled to their share of the blame and have been unwilling helpers by rendering it possible of accomplishment.

CORRESPONDENCE

ODEN, Nov. 10th, 1882.

ED. HERALD:—I promised you last spring that I would write some letters and tell you what I thought of Oregon, but the most of you have heard before this time of the awful accident that we met with and that has taken my mind off writing. But I will try and write a short letter to day. It looks like winter here, the ground is covered with snow. I am on my way back to Kansas, but I will not be able to get through until spring, as the snow will be deep in the mountains. I think the emigration east next spring will be as great as it was west last spring. I wish to say to those who have or are liable to get the Oregon fever, that they had better leave their families in Kansas, as it will only be a question of time when they will want back. Oregon is no such country as represented. The wheat turned out, on an average, about 10 bushels per acre this year. I do not want to deceive anyone, but would advise every man to stay in Kansas. When I get back I will try and be content.

Yours truly,
D. H. MILLER.
